

Experimental Phonetics and Phonology Cluster
Workshop on Connected Speech Processes
March 17th, 2014

Programme

10:00	Welcome address (Francis Nolan)
Session 1
10:10	Other research conducted in the cluster (short presentations) Ricky Chan, Marta Maffia, Elaine Schmidt
10:50	Fuzhou Tone in Connected Speech Yang Li (presented by Ricky Chan)
11:10	Coffee Break
Session 2
11:30	A Study on Lexicosyntactic and Intonational Cues in Turn Projection by Dutch and English Toddlers Imme Lammertink et al.
12:00	Delineating Domains for Reduction and Tone Sandhi Joe Perry
12:30	Lunch Break (uncatered)
Session 3
13:30	Pronunciation and Listening, the Need for Two Separate Models of Speech in English Language Teaching Richard Cauldwell
14:00	L2 Acquisition of Phonetic Vowel Reduction Aike Li & Brechtje Post
14:30	Coffee Break
Session 4
14:50	Element Theory and Coalescence Variation in Japan Connor Youngberg
15:20	(t,d) or not (t,d), that is the Question: Competing Analyses of Cluster-final Consonants at Word Boundaries Rosalind Temple et al.
15:50	Short Break
16:00	Keynote: Mirjam Ernestus: The production and comprehension of pronunciation variation in casual speech
17:00	Drinks Reception